Next Week's Program: The Hillsborough River Watershed Alliance (HRWA)

John Walkinshaw is the Executive Director of HRWA which is an organization that has provided for education, research and community forums since 1992.

John has over 25 years of experience in water resources management. He manages projects that involve water quality, water supply and watershed management. John has also presented at numerous national and regional conferences on water supply and water quality topics. In addition to HRWA, John is an environmental consultant and a communication marketing project manager. He consults on various environmental regulatory programs and conducts public outreach throughout Florida. John is a board member on several statewide environmental organizations. He has an undergraduate degree in Communications and a Master's degree in Communication Management.

HRWA is a non-profit environmental organization that provides for education, research and community forums since 1992. The presentation provides an overview of the Tampa Bay watershed, the important connection between Florida's environment and economy, what people can do to help and where they can get help.
